Are you a manufacturing entrepreneur? Intact Insurance is there to protect you

Do you have a new product at the development stage, an expansion project, an export item that is generating demand? Go for it! Intact Insurance has you covered.

Here's what you can protect with a commercial package policy from Intact Insurance:

- your buildings and their contents, as well as your office equipment, computers, and software
- your risk of loss of income due to business interruption
- your business liability

We can also provide coverage for your manufacturing equipment and tools*.

Find out about "My business and me". It offers manufacturing businesses an extensive basic coverage package and a wide range of options.
